

Hope and Resilience Under Covid-19

A new book project from Write Here, Write Now! and Bishop's University Lifelong Learning Academy (BULLA)

Submissions are now open for all established and aspiring writers and artists. Write Here, Write Now (WHWN) has launched a new project and are inviting people to submit to an ebook and paperback compilation of works to be published in summer, 2021. The theme of the book is Hope and Resilience Under Covid-19.

What can I submit:

Perhaps a poem about what you missed most, or what you loved doing, while in lockdown? Or a drawing about how you and your family coped? An advice column giving tips for what to do if there is another pandemic?

Up to 3 pieces of work. All genres welcome:

- Fiction
- Memoir
- Poetry
- Haiku
- Drawings
- Comics
- Photos

When to submit:

The deadline for submissions is March 20, 2021

What will happen to my submission?

You will be notified in May 2021 if your submission is chosen for publication. If selected for publication, you will receive a free copy of the ebook. Paperback books may be available for sale.

For more information, including how to format your work, word limits, and how to submit, please email Rebecca Welton at rebecca@weltonfamily.ca